In Stock:

Have You Ever Seen a Hearse Pulling a Trailer? The message is clear: You can't take it with you, so give your life not to things that fade, rust, and go out of style, but rather to the values, commitments and relationships that transcend "the things of this world," the values, commitments, and relationships that are eternal because they are of God.

Noah Built His Ark in the Sunshine. In other words, he prepared in advance for the storm that was to come. He didn't wait for the last minute. (Okay, okay, God had to nudge him a little bit before he got started...) He used the bright days in the sunshine to get himself ready, and to build up the resources he would need. Great people of faith have always been like that. But how do WE get there? How do WE reach that level of spiritual maturity? We have to grow it! It doesn't happen overnight.

God Was Here and I Was Out to Lunch. Way back in the book of Genesis, Jacob made a powerful and poignant statement that has resounded across the ages: "Surely the Lord is in this place – and I did not know it!" The modern-day version of that statement would sound like this: "God was here and I was out to lunch." God comes so near to us, but we're so busy, so preoccupied, so set in our ways, or so caught up in our own agenda that we don't recognize Him or realize that He is here.

Rich in the Things That Count the Most. While we may or may not be wealthy when it comes to material things, every one of us can be rich in the things that count the most. Explore the real riches in our lives, those things "that will last and endure, that won't rust or corrode, or become boring or go out of style."

Seizing the Moments: Making the Most of Life's Opportunities. This book helps you learn to avoid a lifetime of "might have beens." Turn your golden opportunities, your crucial moments, into realized dreams through the miracle of God's grace.
